

Dear Parents,

Reading with your child is one of the most important things you can do to help your child develop a love of learning. By sharing these extension questions and activities with them, you are helping to engage their imaginations, create opportunities for dialogue and share special moments with your child that will make a lasting impression. Enjoy!

Danielle

Extension Questions

- ❖ Who can you talk to you when you are upset about something?
- ❖ What did Tango's mom do when Tango was in school?
- ❖ What did Tango do when his mom was at work?
- ❖ What were some of the things that Tango liked to do with his mom?
- ❖ What was one thing you think Tango learned in school? What is one thing you have learned in school?

Extension Activities

Math:

Put all your stuffed animals together and arrange them by size. How many do you have? How many are tall? How many are short?

Science:

Go to the library and find books about animals that have shells. How are they different? How are they the same?

Social/Emotional:

The next time you are in town or at the mall, ask your child to point out people doing different jobs. What do you they think the job is like? Would they enjoy that job?

Art:

Draw a picture doing something you love to do with your parents, grandparents or friends when you are not in school? Draw another pictured of something you love to do with your friends and teachers when you are in school.
